

Teen selected to be NASA scholar

May 29, 2007

Jake Tenberg of Lake Travis High School has been selected to travel to NASA's Johnson Space Center in Houston to participate in a one-week summer internship. Nominated by former state Rep. Terry Keel, Tenberg is one of 314 high school juniors from across Texas chosen for the NASA High School Aerospace Scholar program.

Tenberg completed 10 Web-based assignments during the school year, and he will use the knowledge from those to help his team design a mission to Mars. The internship at Johnson Space Center includes a tour of the facilities and briefings by NASA astronauts. Tenberg and his teammates will present their proposal to their parents, members of the Texas Legislature, Johnson Space Center senior management and others.
